

East Harlem PRESERVATION

ABOUT EAST HARLEM PRESERVATION, INC.

East Harlem Preservation, Inc. (EHP) is a volunteer-driven, non-commercial, 501(c)3 advocacy organization founded in 2005 to promote and preserve the neighborhood's history and diversity. EHP seeks to empower underserved, low-income, and working families in East Harlem/El Barrio and surrounding areas by providing free and unfiltered local news and information about neighborhood programs and upcoming events through our popular social media accounts, website, and monthly newsletter.

EHP is led by community activists, educators, and artists who live and/or work in East Harlem and been involved in many local issues. Members conduct neighborhood tours and organize media and educational campaigns and regularly engage in community empowerment actions involving affordable housing; social and environmental justice; land-marking; and government transparency. We also oppose the following issues: the privatization of public schools and parkland; rezoning; gentrification; large-scale developments; and eminent domain.
